CONGRESS NEARS ADJOURNMENT TIME

TWELVE BILLION DOLLAR BODY FRETS OVER SMALL AMOUNT

DECISION OVER TEN MILLION DOLLAR AMENDMENT HOLDS LAWMAKERS OVER

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(P)—A joint senate-house conference committee agreed today on a compromise deficiency appropriations bill, clearing the way for adjournment of congress by tonight.

The conference group worked out the compromise on the $290,000,000 bill in less than four hours shortly after the senate had almost completed action on the administration's $3,753,000,000 spending-lending program.

As prospect for a quick adjournment improved, President Roosevelt moved up to about 7 p. m. the time of his planned departure for New England where he will attend the wedding on Saturday of his son, John.

Disagreement over provisions of the deficiency bill involving only about $10,000,000 of appropriations were the chief obstacles to adjournment.

When the two branches agreed how much of that $10,000,000 should be left in the bill finally passed, the weary congressmen can go home.

Already out of the way were most major pieces of legislation. The wage-hour bill awaiting President Roosevelt's consideration. Even controversial flood control legislation, over which a filibuster threatened yesterday, was at the White House.

Action on the $3,753,000,000 spending-lending bill almost completed when the senate approved a formula, previously passed by the house, for distribution of $24,000,000 of farm benefit payments carried by the measure.

Subsequently the senate agreed to a $700,000 compromise of the federal election bill, and administrative allocation, also contained in the bill, and this was sent to the house for action.

The senate joined the house in

FULL MEAL BY INJECTION IS REPORTED AS NEW DISCOVERY

AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE Associated Press Science Editor

SAN FRANCISCO, June 16.—(P)—A full meal by hypodermic needle—an improvement on the old idea of a meal in a pill—becomes reality under a discovery announced today by the American Medical Association here today.

The discovery enables a doctor to inject proteins, the "ham, eggs and milk" of menus, directly into the blood. Heretofore the needle has been confined to injecting sugars, water and salts.

The needle meals will save the lives of persons whose stomachs refuse food. This happens not infrequently after surgical operations. While the patients do not directly starve to death, their partial starvation weakens them so that other complications kill them.

The protein injection leaves only fats and vitamins out to complete the "ideal diet" by needle. Some of the vitamins already are in pure form which can be injected, and fats can be dispensed with for some time in the starvation cases.

CROWLEY CHALLENGES CITIZENS OF TEXAS TO THROW OFF YOKE

CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR SCORES "BIG BUSINESS" IN ADDRESS HERE

Citizens of Texas were challenged Wednesday night by Karl Crowley of Fort Worth, candidate for governor, to throw off the yoke of domination by monopolies and absentee-owners and regain possession of the state as he extended his candidacy to Navarro county in a speech on the courthouse lawn.

The speaker veered from the usual procedure, mounted the platform alone and introduced himself to the crowd, and then began his attack on the exploitation of Texas by foreign corporations.

In his introduction he declared he noted the absence of the political bosses and prominent leaders of the community whom he supposed were in the camps of McCraw or Thompson. He admitted that he had always figured Navarro county and Corsicana would be one of the toughest spots for him in the state because it was controlled by "big business."

He first complimented the crowd on being "representative" and then attacked the "representative" of the farming and the working classes, pointing out the absence of any representatives of the people in the state and just wished the people really owned it, but asserted it was owned by foreign corporations and monopolies as securely as if these firms held the deeds to the land.

Political Sham Battle.

Texas this season are being treated to the greatest political sham battle in history between McCraw and Thompson, one representing the utilities and the other oil-sulphur interests, both hand-picked by the state as these same interests. He declared that vote cast by these interests for the people of Texas four years ago would stand unless there was an uprising on the part of the common people.

He charged foreign firms and Texas representatives of monopolies had bought candidates and established such powerful lobbies.

YELLOW RIVER FLOOD CONTINUES HARVEST OF DEATH UNCHECKED

TOLL OF FIFTY THOUSAND LIVES LATEST ESTIMATE FROM JAPANESE

SHANGHAI, June 16.—(P)—The Yellow river flooded by a steady downpour of rain unrolled a ribbon of death and disaster 10 to 20 miles wide and 90 miles long across the flat plains of Honan province today. Chinese and Japanese armies locked in combat on the Peiping-Hankow front fled before the torrent, which Japanese now estimate will take a toll of 50,000 lives.

Advices from Hankow, the provisional Chinese capital, said the relentless flood surging southeastward from torn dikes had penetrated beyond Fukow, 70 miles south of Kaiting on the Lunghai railway and 90 miles south of the Yellow river.

Sweeping over thousands of acres of farmland, driving peasants and armies before it, the flood was declared by Japanese war dispatches to have affected 2,000 villages with an aggregate population of 500,000.

Japanese bombing plants, temporarily diverted from their death-dealing activities, dropped thousands of empty bags, ordinarily used for trenches and machine-gun nests, into the flood area for use by Japan's army engineers in repairing breached dikes.

While the main course of the flood was southeastward, another peril was reported north of the river where Japanese said Chinese troops seeking westward from Changchow had cut new holes in the dikes of the Tsai river.

Tsinyang, about 50 miles north-west of Changchow and on the opposite side of the Yellow river, was menaced, they said.

The outskirts of Tsinyang were under water and the Japanese garrison was struggling to barricade the center of the town.

Japanese Are Blamed.

MANILA, P. I., June 16.—(P)—The disastrous Yellow river flood in China was blamed upon Japanese armies in a statement issued here today.

NATION'S BRIGHT HARVEST PROSPECTS HAVE BEEN DIMMED

VARIOUS REASONS CAUSE WHEAT ESTIMATE BE CUT 100,000,000 BUSHEL

CHICAGO, June 16.—(P)—The nation's brilliant harvest prospects of a fortnight ago dimmed somewhat during the first half of June as a survey of the farm belt disclosed today, but large crop production still is expected by grain experts.

Whereas an all-time record wheat production was forecast officially two weeks ago, most authorities believe now a big harvest comparable with average yields of recent satisfactory years is more likely, unless further unlooked-for crop damage occurs.

Because of spreading black rust, wet weather and discovery of frost damage inflicted earlier in the year, many experts revised June 1 estimates of winter wheat production, some cutting as much as 100,000,000 bushels from their forecasts. The June 1 government forecast was 761,000,000 bushels.

Harvest has revealed shriveled and unfilled wheat heads in many parts of the country where conditions already have been working. This situation, attributed partly to freeze and rust, has stirred up trade discussion as to how much of the wheat threshed would be millable.

Following are some aspects of the crop situation by states:

Kansas—Mrs. E. H. Miller reported wheat from St. Joseph west to Marysville and south to Salina very spotted and yield materially reduced by freeze and rust; much wheat already breaking down, straw drying before maturity of berry; much will test light.

Texas—Progress and condition wheat good to excellent, with harvest delayed somewhat by rain; some damage from hail and rust in Abilene area.

Oklahoma—Rain delayed harvest with considerable wheat downed by wind and rain; wheat near El Reno, Clinton and Hydro reported down.

FLORIDA KIDNAPER MUST DIE IN CHAIR FOR RECENT CRIME

JUDGE SAYS THERE WERE NO MITIGATING CIRCUMSTANCES IN CASE

MIAMI, June 16.—(P)—Franklin Pierce McCall, 21, was sentenced today to die in the electric chair for the kidnapping of Jimmy Cash, Jr.

Cautioning the crowded courtroom to keep quiet, Circuit Judge H. F. Atkinson called the kidnaper's son to the bench.

"You plead guilty to the offense as charged of kidnapping and holding James Bailey Cash, Jr., for ransom. What have you to say for yourself?" he demanded.

McCall merely shook his head.

"I find you guilty as charged in the indictment," the judge continued, "under the laws of Florida and sentence you to be held until such time as you shall be delivered to the superintendent of the state prison at Raiford, there to be held safely until a death sentence shall be carried out."

The judge said the kidnaper would fix the date for the execution, specified the prisoner was to be put to death by electricity and concluded with the customary, "May God have mercy on your soul."

He made no further comment in court on the $10,000 ransom abduction McCall confessed to having perpetrated at Princeton May 25 but remarked privately that "it was the most cold-blooded thing I ever heard of—there were no mitigating circumstances in this case."

McCall heard his doom without comment.

CRIMINAL RECORD JERSEY CITY MADE PART NEWARK TRIAL

MAYOR FRANK HAGUE LOS-ES TILTS TO NEW YORK ATTORNEY THURSDAY

NEWARK, N. J., June 16.—(P)—Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City and opposing counsel resumed their heated wrangling in federal court today over questioning about Jersey City's absence from the list of cities whose records for crime are published by the federal bureau of investigation.

Morris L. Ernst, of counsel for the plaintiff CIO and American Civil Liberties Union, sought to show that the records of the Hague domain were omitted by the FBI because they were "dishonest and untrue."

The mayor, shaking his forefinger at the New York attorney was cut off repeatedly by Ernst who insisted on answers only to his questions.

The session, also was interrupted by the appearance of Socialist Leader Norman Thomas, who was reported from Jersey City April 30 when he attempted to speak there without a permit.

"Here comes the hero in," remarked Hague from the witness stand.

British Prime Minister Sees New Peace Plan

LONDON, June 16.—(P)—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain told the House of Commons today that the United States government had indicated it was preparing to propose a new peace plan to end the world's present war.

Asked by Arthur Henderson, labor member, if Britain were willing to "join with the United States government in making definite proposals with a view to securing a halt in the arms race," Chamberlain replied tersely:

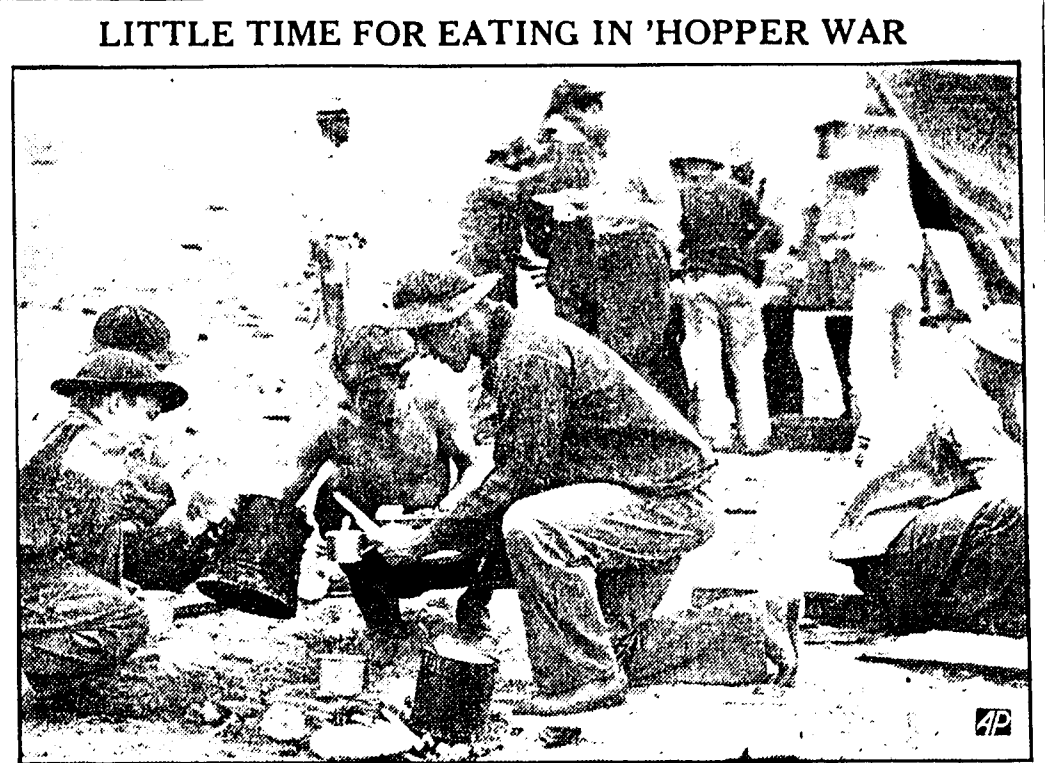

"The United States government have suggested they are going to make an attempt."

Chamberlain is known to favor the "qualitative" type of disarmament such as abolition of the most deadly kinds of weapons—perhaps bombing planes.

This, he believes, is the type of disarmament most likely to escape evasion.

Britain herself is in the midst of a gigantic rearmament program and recently has been in the lead in attempts at disarmament in view of unsettled world conditions.

TWO TRAINMEN ARE BELIEVED DEAD IN WASHOUT WRECK

FORT WORTH AND DENVER TRAIN PLUNGED INTO FLOODED CREEK

CHILDRESS, June 6.—(P)—Two trainmen were missing and a third was injured early today when a Fort Worth and Denver train ploughed through a washed out bridge into the flooded Salt Fork of the Red River near Wellington.

A third trainman, first reported missing, was caught up by the swift current of the rain-swollen stream and swam five miles downstream despite an injured chest. He was Dick Brown, brakeman, of Childress.

Missing were M. V. Griggs, engineer and C. E. Burton, fireman, both of Childress. Rescue workers believed they were trapped in the cab of the locomotive, but there was some possibility they had been able to swim to safety.

Brown pulled himself out of the clay-colored current of the Salt Fork 20 miles south of Shamrock, and was taken to a hospital there. Badly hurt and exhausted from his struggle with the river, he was unable to give details of the wreck, or to tell the fate of the other trainmen.

He said he believed H. L. McKenzie, another member of the Chinese Declare Six Jap Bombers Were Shot Down

CANTON, China, June 16.—(P)—An official proclamation said six Japanese bombing planes attempting an attack on the Canton area had been shot down today, started joyous celebrations in this much-bombed city.

The announcement, by the local government, asserted Chinese pursuit planes met and defeated the invaders. Canton's remaining populace, which has suffered death-dealing Japanese air attacks almost without respite for three weeks, received the news ecstatically.

The proclamation said the Japanese again bombed the railway north of Canton, after which 13 Chinese pursuit planes set out and caught them at Lukchong-shen, about 200 miles north of the city near the border between Kwangtung and Hunan provinces.

The Chinese planes, then "few rings around the slow-moving death engines," said the proclamation, "machine-gunning and shooting down the bombers one by one."

The Japanese in bombing the railway were attempting to block the northward shipment of munitions.

Hitherto Japanese air raiders have met no real resistance over Canton, and the unexpected Chinese defense strengthened reports that the Chinese high command had sent 30 French-made planes to the Canton area since the present series of Japanese bombings began May 28.

French Chamber Cleared Result General Fight

PARIS, June 16.—(P)—An alarm signal summoning guards to clear the hall sounded today in the chamber of deputies for the first time in a decade as Communist and Rightist deputies fought over France's policy toward the Spanish civil war.

The two extreme factions mingled in a free-for-all over the communist demands that France end her policy of nonintervention and open the way to aid for the Spanish government.

Two rightist deputies, Fernand Claudet and Francois Peugeot, were injured and were escorted from the chamber with blood dripping from their faces.

Edouard Herriot, president of the chamber, had suspended the session for the second time during the day in an effort to halt bitter shouting between the right and left sides of the amphitheater.

During the suspension a group of communists had approached the right and clashed with nationalist members. The fighters were quickly dispersed.

Trouble arose after communist spokesmen reported they had applied "unilateral" application of the European nonintervention accord, referred to Italian and German aid to the insurgents, and insisted on immediate discussion of their demands for ending France's neutrality.

'LOST' DIVISION OF SPANISH ARMY FLED OVER FRENCH BORDER

GENERAL FRANCO OPENS WIDESPREAD OFFENSIVE IN ORDER END WAR QUICKLY

HENDAYE, France (At the Spanish Frontier), June 16.—(P)—Spanish insurgents reported they had captured the last-division of the government's last-division of the Pyrenees mountain passes today, forcing the government's "lost" forty-third division to flee across the frontier into France.

The fighting in the far north, however, was only one phase of widespread insurgent offensives. Generalissimo Francisco Franco was said to have ordered commanders in all areas to launch campaigns to bring the civil war to a quick close.

In the south, a major battle developed on the Cordoba front. Insurgents reported they had killed about 10 miles in two days in the mountainous sector north-west of Pennaroya, where the government has built strong lines.

The insurgent strategy, apparently, was to catch extremes of the government's territory between simultaneous fires.

On the Mediterranean sea-front, the east, the insurgent conquerors of Castellon de La Plana surged toward Valencia from two sides without slackening their pace.

Three insurgent armies pressed south toward the refugee-crowded former capital, 40 miles below Castellon on the broad coastal plain.

Two others attacked eastward from the Teruel sector, the other

DRAMATIC EFFORT OF LEWIS TO FORCE LABOR LEGISLATION

ATTEMPTS TO STRENGTHEN WALSH-HEALEY BILL TRAC-ED TO INDUSTRIAL WARS

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(P)—John L. Lewis' dramatic effort to force congress to strengthen the Walsh-Healey bill was traced today by labor experts to the industrial wars of 1926 and 1937.

Those years encompassed the major offensives in Lewis' militant CIO campaign to organize mass production industries along industrial union lines.

Among the toughest opponents the CIO encountered were big firms which did considerable business with the government. Lewis proposed amendments to the Walsh-Healey act were aimed at such firms.

They would require all companies having government contracts of $2,000 or more to observe certain wage-hour standards and to accept decisions of the National labor relations board. Non-compliance would "blacklist" such firms when future federal contracts were awarded.

In a desperate effort to push the measure through the house, Lewis established temporary headquarters in Speaker Bankhead's office Monday and summoned several congressmen to hear his demands.

The house rules committee refused his demand for a vote under suspension of the rules, and one of his chief left with a declaration of "cowardly congressmen."

Representative Cox (D-Ga.) retorted that the rules committee would continue to throw him (Lewis) on his ear.

Evidences began to crop out today that bitter C. I. O. resentment over the loss of the bill would be carried into this year's elections.

POET CARL SANDBURG RATHER CRITICAL OF PRESENT OUTLOOK FOR GRADUATES OF COLLEGES

By RUSSELL LANDSTROM HARBET, Mich., June 16.—(P)—This year's crop of college graduates, Poet Carl Sandburg said today, was being turned out into a "crap-shooters' world" which would give it few breaks.

Interrupting the work of putting the finishing touches on his complete life of Lincoln, the famous humanist writer surveyed the situation in which most college graduates found themselves "seriously comic."

"There are no prospects for many of them but little jobs in the WPA," he asserted, "and if there were jobs the bulk of the students wouldn't be qualified to fill them."

"College students are being graduated without the slightest knowledge of the true political and economic life of their communities or the nation."

"The old taboos still operate in the college environment. It is still considered the better way to whisper about certain things, to shush up unpleasant subjects to pretend that something you don't want to believe doesn't exist."

If the graduate has literary ambitions, and the poet he's in line for stiff jolts of disappointment and disillusionment, especially if he chooses the short story as his medium.

"If he's successful," Sandburg continued, "the short story now must have a kind of mediocrity. It is next to impossible to write out of one's self and make a go of it." Author Chekov probably was the greatest short story writer who ever lived, but he couldn't get anywhere in the United States today.

"The spectacle of unemployment, of human labor being 'utterly wasted' and of what he described as the paradoxes, inconsistencies and credulities of American life prompted Sandburg to say: 'when I finish by Lincoln book I may go back to writing nonsense stories.'"

"You trace a lump of coal for a piece of ice, the ice melts and you haven't anything. We save our money—and for what? To buy

TEXAS PANHANDLE SCENE DISASTROUS DAMAGE THURSDAY

TRAIN WRECKED, RAIL LINES WASHED OUT AND HIGHWAYS ARE INUNDATED

By The Associated Press

Five persons were missing, a train was wrecked, railroad tracks were washed out and highways inundated in the eastern section of the Texas Panhandle Thursday when torrential rains sent brown floods down normally dry creek and river channels.

Three passenger automobiles were sought near Wellington after highway department officials there feared they might have plunged through a washed out bridge over the Salt Fork of the Red river between Wellington and Shamrock.

A father, mother and child identified as Mr. and Mrs. Bert Freeman and son of Wichita Falls were feared drowned when a sudden rise in a creek swept their automobile from a bridge near Clarendon.

M. V. Griggs, engineer, and C. E. Burton, fireman of a Fort Worth and Denver freight train were feared drowned when a sudden rise in a creek swept their automobile from a bridge near Clarendon.

Searching parties attempted to determine whether Griggs and Burton were trapped in the cab of the locomotive but safety was so badly injured chest.

There was a 60-foot drop from the gap in the bridge to the water below. Divers were unable to cope with the surging water.

CLARENDON, June 16.—(P)—Three persons identified as Mr. and Mrs. Bert Freeman and their three-year-old son were reported drowned today in the flooded waters of East Lelia Lake creek one mile east of Lelia Lake.

A sudden surge of water down the creek was believed to have swept them. Freeman and the child in the turbulent channel, while Freeman was seeking aid from a nearby farm home. Freeman was presumed to have plunged into the stream in an attempt to rescue his wife and child.

Elmer Kennedy, a farmer who lives near the creek, reported that Freeman came to his house late last night to ask if he and his wife and child could spend the night. He said Freeman told him he had left his family in an auto-

GREAT RAILROAD SALVAGING SEEN IN UNITED STATES

WASHINGTON, June 15.—(AP)—B. H. Meyer of the interstate commerce commission predicted today the United States probably faces the greatest railroad salvaging operations in history unless there are basic changes in the carriers' status.

The commissioner expressed his view in dissenting from an ICC decision denying the Associated Railways Company permission to acquire and dismember the bankrupt Minneapolis & St. Louis railroad.

Adverse action on the application, Meyer contended, "avoids certain present losses, but it makes certain greater losses in the future."

He said the decision compelled the M. & St. L. to make a "prompt choice" between foreclosure sale or reorganization.

Meyer asserted that "a railroad which is not given enough traffic to live must be abandoned. x x x It is only by authorizing abandonment where public gains outweigh public losses that the most essential railroad mileage of the country can be preserved."

arm of a giant nutcracker in which Franco hopes to crush the defense army of General Jose

More than 2,000 wounded militiamen of the "lost" division, clothed only in rags, struggled into France during the night and early morning darkness while heroic comrades covered their flight down the Pyrenees' steep slopes.

Francis expressed that General Antonio Bentran, commander of the division, and his staff with 800 members of a "suicide brigade" might be cut off by the insurgents' rapidly closing trap.

The flight ended the resistance of the division, which had halted Franco's entire northern campaign for two months although it was cut off from all aid and was isolated on barren ridges of the mountains.

The government acknowledged loss of Castellon, the first serviceable port the insurgents have won on the Mediterranean.

Five ships including two French and two British freighters, were bombed in Valencia harbor by insurgent planes.

The French freighters Karbar and Golia were sunk. The British freighter Thurston, first bombed June 7, and the British ship Seapharber were struck.

Air Raid on Barcelona. (AP)—BARCELONA, June 16.—(AP)—Three persons were killed and 10 wounded today in two insurgent air raids on the outskirts of Barcelona.

Non-Intervention Crisis. PARIS, June 16.—(AP)—Premier Edouard Daladier's national defense government today staved off a potential crisis over non-intervention in the Spanish war when it invoked parliamentary rules in the Chamber of Deputies to delay debate on communist demands for aid to the Barcelona regime.

At the cabinet's request, Edouard Herriot, president of the chamber, steered the communist request for debate into the foreign affairs committee, which has five days to make its report.

Before then, however, Daladier was expected to send parliament on its vacation.

MADRID, June 16.—(AP)—Insurgent airmen, now with a base less than 25 minutes from Valencia with Tuesday's capture of Castellon De La Plana, raided Valencia three times today between midnight and noon.

The first two raids were made during the night with destruction of 28 buildings along Mediterranean beaches at suburban Naret and El Cabanal Y Malvarrosa.

The third raid was on Valencia proper but the populace, alerted by this time at scurrying underground at the first alarm, escaped with but few casualties.

Hundreds of children, however, fled screaming across the sands at El Cabanal Y Malvarrosa, when bombs fell close by a children's home. None was hurt.

Orphan babies were carried by nurses to the comparative safety of the beach. About 100 bombs were dropped thereabouts.

that they had broken down the constitution of the state and had actually taken the state government into their own hands and were operating in for their selfish benefit.

Ernest O. Thompson "The Tory" was described as the favorite of the monopolies from the Standard Oil Company and sponsor of "protection" as long as it benefited major companies.

Crowley termed another opponent as "Tap-Dancing Willie" McCall, "prize pupil of all times of the Dallas Little Theatre, who has been too busy in the spotlight the past four years to try a law suit while he was running for governor x x x Knows nothing and cares nothing about government, and if elected will spend the next four years running against Morris Sheppard for senate."

The Fort Worth candidate said there were only three announced candidates for governor when he entered the campaign but a "number" were now involved as the special interests endeavored to split the votes to such an extent he could be in the run-off with one of the chosen candidates.

He charged the entry of James A. Ferguson was just as much an attempt to delude the voters as some others that could be mentioned.

Much Money Spent. Crowley charged that at least two million dollars was being spent on the campaigns of his two major opponents and demanded they tell where the money came from that defrayed the expenses of special trains, caravans of buses, unlimited radio time, and an "army of publicists."

He declared that he quit his post with the federal government to make the campaign for governor, but charged his opponents with fearing loss of power and influence if they quit their posts to make the race under their own resources. He asserted Roosevelt was the greatest president since Washington and drew a big hand from the crowd.

The Fort Worth candidate declared that the attorney general had filed many anti-trust suits but had always been too busy to try them. He charged him with filing the thirty-million dollar cement trust suit after these manufacturers had indicated support for Thompson and credited McCall with having effectively silenced them in this respect.

Interests in New York, London and Amsterdam were declared the actual owners and operators of Texas oil fields by Crowley as he pointed out recent Wall Street journals had shown the Humble company made a profit of 48 millions last year off a capital of eight million dollars. He turned then on the utilities and asserted all of the rates of Texas users were fixed in New York and local and state officials were only figureheads, and citizens of Texas were paying from 20 to 25 million dollars too much for electricity each year but had been effectively prevented from establishing a state organization to control rates and determine what actually were fair returns.

He declared oil to the value of $600,000,000 was exported from Texas annually but the state received only two and three-quarter cents per barrel tax and most of that was used up by the railroad commission. He proposed to put sufficient taxes on the natural resources of the state to bring in thirty millions annually for the school fund, and ninety millions for the retirement of every outstanding bond in Texas.

Knows Oil Business. Crowley declared that he knew the oil business from top to bottom because it had made him a living as an attorney for nineteen years; he charged the people of Texas had been so bilied by false propaganda that their natural resources were being stolen; he pointed out that other sources of oil in the world taxed the products up to thirty-five per cent eliminated the advantage tax which effectively penalized the average citizen and made him virtually helpless.

He declared he favored paying all the old age pensions but knew it was foolish to attempt to save enough money out of the state operations to do this; he proposed that all claims be handled through the commissioners courts and thus eliminate an army of state employees on big salaries and expense accounts, and to secure the money to pay the pensioners with a two per cent gross transactions tax on everything except foods.

He closed his appeal with another challenge to the voters to rid themselves of the professional

No Communications. WASHINGTON, June 16.—(AP)—The state department said today no communications had passed between the United States and Great Britain on the question of world disarmament.

Officials expressed the belief Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's intimation in the house of commons that definite disarmament proposals might be forthcoming from the United States were based entirely on a recent speech by Secretary Hull at Nashville, Tenn.

Hull said then: "With the world groaning under the burden of mounting armaments, we are prepared to join with other nations in moving resolutely toward bringing about an effective agreement on limitation and progressive reduction of armaments."

Economic Waste May Lead to Want American People

DENTON, June 15.—(AP)—Widespread national economic waste must be checked immediately if Americans are long to enjoy luxuries which they have come to regard as commonplace necessities.

President W. J. McConnell of North Texas State Teachers College declared in a conservation course lecture here today.

Erosion of American soil over a period of time may produce effects quite as disastrous as the assaults of barbarian hordes who smothered Roman civilization 15 centuries ago, President McConnell warned.

Unless American farmers check wind and water erosion, their children will have to be content, not only with fewer luxuries, but with fewer of the so-called bare necessities of life.

He told students in the course of conservation, a natural resource being conducted this summer at the teachers' college that a recent national survey showed 650,000 farmers of the United States now occupy 100 million acres of land on which it is already impossible to grow crops at a profit.

"I just want to know if you know," Ernest fired back.

train crew, had been injured. Brown said the train ploughed into the washout about 2:30 a. m. He was brought to Shamrock about 7:30 a. m.

Officials of the railroad at Childress said the locomotive was submerged in the stream, and rescue workers were attempting to determine definitely whether the engineer and fireman were in the cab.

Heavy rains north of here were believed to have sent the usually dry or near-dry stream on a sudden flood. Only moderate showers had fallen in this vicinity.

Rain and Wind Damage. LUBBOCK, June 16.—(AP)—Farmers checked the damaging results of a heavy rain and 60-mile gale that came to South Plains last night.

A quarter to two inches of precipitation was reported throughout the area and while some sections were benefitted, considerable damage was feared in others to small cotton. Outbuildings, trees and shrubbery were also damaged.

Hall accompanied the rain in some sections.

mobile on a bridge across the creek.

A quick rise in the stream meanwhile had washed the automobile into the creek and the farmer said he believed Freeman made a futile attempt to reach his wife and child.

Kennedy said he heard screams and calls for help, but the stream had risen so rapidly he was unable to reach the scene. He came to Clarendon for help.

The flood-battered car, a man's shoe and a pair of trousers were recovered from the stream this morning. Rescue workers were dragging the creek, and searching parties went along the banks downstream.

Freeman was identified through a driver's license found in the automobile, a light 1936 (Plymouth sedan.)

Three Reported Missing. AMARILLO, June 16.—(AP)—Bert Freeman, employee of the Wichita Falls Times, his wife and three-year-old son, were reported missing today in a flood caused by a downpour in the vicinity of Clarendon.

When Freeman saw the high water he went to a farm house and asked for shelter. Then he returned to his car for his wife and baby. He has not been heard from since then, and residents of the vicinity feared the three may have been caught in a sudden headle.

Nearly three inches of rain fell at Clarendon, washing out railroad tracks and causing other damage. A three inch rain in 1934 flooded the plains city and took three lives.

finching. His face was impressive and he looked straight ahead. Afterwards, under heavy guard he was taken to an elevator and returned to his cell.

Jack Kehoe, the defense attorney appointed by the court, said he thought McCall had received a fair trial yesterday and that there would be no appeal. He said he had followed McCall's instructions in representing him and that he conferred with the defendant this morning and McCall declared he had nothing more to say.

McCall told the court at a hearing yesterday how he carried out the kidnapping.

"No one else ever had money tempt them that much," he said. McCall sat with eyes downcast while James Bailey Cash, Sr., father of the dead boy and Mrs. Cash, identified pajamas worn by their son, but maintained he never intended killing the boy.

He told of entering the Cash home after cutting the screen of a back door.

Tells of Child's Death. "I picked Skeegie up in my arms," he said, "and placed two large, white, clean handkerchiefs over his face. I went out the back door. He appeared to be sleeping. I carried him in both arms and held the handkerchiefs over his mouth and, I guess, over his nose, but I didn't know it."

McCall related he walked to his home in the darkness, placed the child on a bed and tried to awaken him.

"I tried artificial respiration," he said, "I had heard it sometimes worked with people who had been strangled. I got cold water from the icebox and bathed his face but he didn't wake up."

"I saw he was dead and didn't know what to do."

With no particular place in mind McCall said, he took the body into the woods and left it in a thicket.

He then told how he went home and got the ransom note he had prepared five days before. He also told of delivering two other notes the last of which he himself pretended to find.

Dr. Joseph Otto, who performed the autopsy, said he was unable to determine the cause of death because of decomposition but that he found no signs of violence.

An uncle and a brother sat with McCall at the defense table throughout yesterday's proceedings.

MORE THAN HUNDRED MILLION ALLOTTED RIVERS, HARBORS

LARGE AMOUNT OF FUNDS WILL BE USED IN IMPROVEMENTS IN TEXAS

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(AP)—The army engineers allotted $122,455,846 of war department funds today for expenditure in the next 12 months on rivers and harbors and flood control projects.

Of the total allotted, $61,708,980 was for new work and maintenance of existing rivers and harbors improvements and $60,746,866 for flood control work.

Under President Roosevelt's instructions, immediate expenditures will be concentrated on projects likely to provide most employment, officials said.

The following allotments were made for continuation or completion of work on flood control projects:

Examinations and surveys, Galveston district, $284,000.

Conchos dam and reservoir, N. M., $5,400,000; Fort Supply reservoir, Okla., $900,000; Great Salt Plains reservoir, Okla., $930,000; Caddo reservation, Arkansas river, Colo., $156,000.

Projects partly or wholly within Texas followed:

Louisiana-Texas intercoastal waterways, New Orleans to Sabine river section, maintenance, $267,650; Sabine-Neches waterway, Texas, new work, $700,000, maintenance, $85,000; Louisiana-Texas intercoastal waterway, Sabine river to Corpus Christi section, maintenance, $171,000; Galveston harbor, maintenance, $93,000; Galveston channel, maintenance, $73,000; Texas City ship channel, new work, $112,000, maintenance, $62,000; Houston ship channel, maintenance, $239,000; Freeport harbor, maintenance, $46,000; Aransas Pass to Corpus Christi channel, maintenance, $113,000; Port Aransas, maintenance, $73,000; channel, Pass Cavallo to Port Lavaca, new work, $116,875; Brazos Island harbor, maintenance, $72,000; Examinations, surveys and contingencies general—Galveston district, $110,000; Brazos river below Fulton, Ark., $12,500; Cypress bayou and waterway between Jefferson, Texas, and Shreveport, La., $51,700.

The locomotive was lying on its side in the river bed, completely covered with water.

A wrecker was en route to the scene and railroad officials said they hope to drag the engine from the center of the stream to quicken water at the edge. They held out little hope for the lives of the missing trainmen.

Three Believed Drowned. Freeman was feared to have lost his life near Clarendon when he attempted to rescue his wife and child. Elmer Kennedy, farmer who lives near the creek, said Freeman left his automobile on a bridge. High water came to the characteristic of West Texas "dry" streams—evidently carried it with his wife and child into the flood.

Kennedy believed Freeman had tried vainly to reach them. A man, about a pair of trousers and the flood-battered automobile were found by searchers at daylight but there was no trace of the missing persons, Kennedy said. Freeman came to his door about midnight seeking shelter for the family.

The rainfall near Clarendon ranged from an inch to three inches. High water was under way and sections of railroad track were washed out. There was a light rain at Amarillo, and the eastern section of the Panhandle near Oklahoma line appeared to be hardest hit by downpours.

Rains of from two to five inches damaged bridges and highways northwest of Hollis, Okla.

Lubbock, on the South Plains of Texas, reported a wind-driven rain over much of the territory last night which will cause considerable replanting of cotton and grain sorghums. Some hail was reported.

Three Automobiles Missing. WELLINGTON, June 16.—(AP)—State highway department employees today investigated a report that three passenger automobiles plunged through a washed-out highway bridge into the flood waters of the Salt Fork of the Red River near here.

A new 75-yard long concrete bridge on U. S. Highway 83 between Wellington and Shamrock collapsed about midnight when a rushing head rise washed out its piers.

A filling station operator near by reported three automobiles moved down the highway in the direction of the river soon after, and did not return.

No efforts were made to halt the vehicles, since no one knew then of the washout.

Three boats, one equipped with a motor and grappling hooks, were put into the stream in an effort to find the automobiles.

Flood Waters Cover Parsons. PARSONS, Kas., June 16.—(AP)—Flood waters covered the entire lower north and east sections of Parsons today and police assisted many families in moving from their homes.

Labette creek was at the biggest flood stage in its history and still was rising as additional showers fell this morning.

REV. E. T. MILLER SPEAKER AT CIVITAN LUNCHEON THURSDAY

MISSSES PEGGY ANN LEVI AND JEWEL TAYLOR FURNISHED THE PROGRAM

Rev. E. T. Miller, pastor of the First Baptist church, was the speaker at Thursday's luncheon meeting of the Civitan club, at the Navarro hotel, and Misses Peggy Ann Levi and Jewel Taylor gave the first portion of the program, in a series of dances, piano solos and readings.

Ed Wendorf and Casey Robinson, in charge of today's program, and Mitchell Boyd and Paul Robinson were appointed to arrange next week's program. Visitors today were Jack Roberts of Houston and I. B. Richardson of Dallas.

T. C. Orr made a very fine report on activities of the signs committee, Lloyd Carraway, elected last week as delegate to the Civitan international convention in Cincinnati, said it would be impossible for him to attend and the club elected President O. F. Allen as delegate in his place.

Frederick Allen presented Ed Wendorf the ex-president's pin.

Miss Levi accompanied by Miss Taylor, gave a tap dance, and Miss Taylor played a medley of popular and recently popular songs. Miss Levi closed the program with two readings.

Mr. Miller announced his subject, and said he would let two characters suggest the good in mankind. The characters were Shakespeare and Christ.

The speaker said Shakespeare saw in man an inherently honest being, one that can be trusted and relied upon. The hard also found a conscience for justice, an ardor for bravery and an archangel of kindness in the breast of every man, Mr. Miller said.

The speaker said Christ saw the image of God in man, and termed him "the earth's precious jewel." Christ also saw in man eternality, creature, and then gave himself that the world might be saved. Mr. Miller said it is the Civitan club's duty to help man find himself, help him find and develop his good points and then help him disseminate it to others.

In closing Mr. Miller told of the Civitan's interest in leading good causes and championing worthy characters. He suggested some steps ought to be taken to champion the spiritual side of 1,600 Corsicana school children who do not go to church or Sunday school.

CONGRESS

overriding President Roosevelt's veto of a bill continuing lower interest rates on government farm loans. Its vote of 57 to 18 against the veto made the measure law.

Some legislators, weary after night and early morning sessions, were hopeful of adjournment by dinner time tonight. Others, cognizant of the possibility of a last-minute outbreak of speech-making, abandoned such hopes.

Fair Return For Farmers Promised. WASHINGTON, June 16.—(AP)—The senate accepted today a house-approved formula for distributing $212,000,000 of farm benefit payments provided in the spending-riding bill.

Only one or two minor points in the big bill remained to be smoothed out when the farm payments were finally agreed upon.

The objective of writing the farm fund in the measure was to assure farmers 75 per cent of a "fair return" on their major crops. The $212,000,000 is in addition to the $500,000,000 previously voted for soil conservation payments.

A "fair return," congress has said, is a price which would give farm commodities purchasing power, in terms of non-farm products and services, equal to that which they possessed in the 1909-14 period. During those years farm and non-farm goods and services were declared to have been a basis of price equality.

For example, in May the farm price of cotton averaged 8.4 cents a pound. A "fair" or "parity" price would have been 18.1 cents, economists say. A 75 per cent "fair" price would have been 12.07 cents.

Farmers Credit Association. WASHINGTON, June 16.—(AP)—Senator Sheppard (D-Tex.), has introduced a bill to establish federal credit and savings associations in the rural areas of the country.

Membership in the federally chartered associations would be limited to persons living in farming communities or towns of 2,000 or less population.

The association would make loans to members and provide savings facilities for them. Loans could be made without security up to $50 at a low rate of interest.

Override Bill Veto. WASHINGTON, June 16.—(AP)—A bill to continue low interest rates on certain federal farm loans became law today, despite objections by President Roosevelt.

The senate, following similar action in the house yesterday, voted to override was 244 to 87. The veto of the legislation. The house vote to override was 244 to 87. The senate vote was 77 to 18.

The legislation, sponsored by Senator Gillette and Representative Biermann, both Iowa democrats, will continue through June 1940, the 3-1-2 per cent interest rate on certain land bank loans and the four per cent rate on land bank commissioners' loans.

In vetoing the bill, Mr. Roosevelt said it could cost a total of $208,700,000.

House Members Angry. WASHINGTON, June 16.—(AP)—A group of house members, angry at a bill to continue low interest rates on certain federal farm loans, tried unsuccessfully today to recall the legislation.

The request for unanimous consent to preclude the proceedings was blocked by Rep. Pearson (D-Tenn.) who called the legislation "a salutary measure."

CONTINUE EFFORTS TRACE WORD FAMILY MISSING FOR WEEKS

FORT DAVIS, June 16.—(AP)—Sheriff Jim C. Walker said today a family which passed through the Arizona border station at Apache June 5 apparently was not the family of Ed and Mrs. Alton Word and their five children.

The sheriff wired the Apache station and received a reply that one Elton Word and a party of three were checked through. Walker said types of the automobiles and license numbers, as well as the names, were different.

There had been reports that the Word family passed through Apache.

The Word family, residents of Fort Davis, had been missing since May 23 when they left by automobile for El Paso. They were travelling in a pick-up truck.

Walker said he had sent an inquiry to Carlsbad, N. M., today because an El Paso woman reported she saw the Word truck on the Carlsbad road Sunday.

PLANE ORDERED TO SEARCH FOR MISSING YACHT AND BOYS

SAN DIEGO, Calif., June 16.—(AP)—A coast guard plane was ordered aloft today in a renewed hunt for the $25,000 ketch Tira and the boys disappeared last Sunday.

Runaway boys were believed to be sailing toward Cocos Island, legendary site of buried treasure.

Latest of many "clues" brought to coast guardmen since the yacht and the boys disappeared simultaneously from Santa Cruz, Calif., three weeks ago today, led to the new plane search.

Capt. Joe Marina of the tuna clipper Vigilante reported last night he had spoken to three boys last Thursday on a yacht off San Geronimo Island, 220 miles south of San Diego and 700 miles south of Santa Cruz.

Coast guardmen doubted it was the Tira but weren't "passing up any bets." The yacht Marina saw was white. The Tira, when it left Monterey, was black.

San Geronimo is along the 2,300-mile "spite" crew of Santa Cruz to Cocos Island, pirate base of the Spanish sailing days to which 17-year-old Lyle Tara, supposed leader of the runaway boys, was known to have charted a course.

Lew K. Foote, owner of the missing craft, said Tara and his crew—James Henniger, 17, and Bill Grace, 16—probably would have encountered no trouble except with navigation. Tara had a library book on the subject to guide him.

The Tira was stocked with six weeks' provisions, 300 gallons of water, and enough fuel to run the auxiliary diesel engines for 300 miles. Seas have been calm and the 52-foot sailing craft was perfectly seaborne.

The boys' adventure has caused Mrs. William R. Tara, mother of Lyle, "many sleepless nights."

"They have me worried," she said, "but if they can't get on one of those lonely islands in the South Seas it may be a long time before they found them—and I don't think they'll give a clue to their whereabouts by writing home."

Mrs. Tara blamed her sons' disappearance on a passionate love of the sea and a desire for adventure. He had lived happily with his parents and three older brothers, but spent all his spare hours in his rowboat on Monterey bay.

The other boys came from broken homes. Young Henniger's mother is a divorcee. Mr. and Mrs. William R. Tara, parents of the third boy, are separated and his mother is in Reno. Bill had been living with his grandmother.

Navarro Man Weds Streetman Girl In Surprise Ceremony

STREETMAN, June 16.—(Sp.)—High Blair Fouty, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Fouty of Navarro, and Miss Ruth Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Collins of near Streetman, took their friends by surprise and were quietly married at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. E. L. Jones, Saturday afternoon, leaving immediately afterward for San Antonio for a week's visit.

Mrs. Fouty is a popular teacher in the public schools of Navarro county. Mr. and Mrs. Fouty will be at home at Navarro for the present.

Bird in Hand Is Worth Two Passes. ROANOKE, Va., June 16.—(AP)—A bird in the hand is worth two passes on the bus to a family living outside Roanoke.

Policeman J. P. Cralle said he saw a passenger alight here from a suburban bus, attach his pass to a homing pigeon, and send it back for other members of the family to use.

Nachogdoches Jail Break Thwarted. NACOGDOCHES, June 16.—(AP)—County officers believed today they had thwarted a planned break from the Nachogdoches county jail through discovery of 13 hacksaw blades hidden in a mattress and the arrest of Eric Kling, 20, of Bitter, a town near here.

County Attorney Vernis Fulmer filed a charge against Kling of aiding a prisoner to escape.

The break had been set for tonight, officers believed.

Government Approves Rail Rates Increase. MEXICO CITY, June 16.—(AP)—The government gave its approval today to an increase in rates of the employee-administered Mexican National Railways.

The increase of 5 to 20 per cent on many articles, ordered yesterday by Salvador Romero, the railway general manager, was approved by the communications department's rates commission which earlier had opposed any increase.

Nobody seemed to know exactly what would happen if the boys were found with the yacht. Foote said if the boys had taken the yacht he would not press charges but would let the law take its course.

Graves Delays His Campaign Opening

AUSTIN, June 16.—(AP)—Harry N. Graves, judge of the court of criminal appeals through an appointment, said today he would begin his campaign for nomination to the office after the start of the court's summer recess June 25.

"The court is making every effort to complete its work before end of the term," he said, "and, although it may be to my disadvantage in this campaign, I am determined to do my share of the work between now and adjournment."

EMERGENCY BUDGETS ROAD-BRIDGE WORK RECEIVE APPROVAL

COMMISSIONERS OF COUNTY
MEET IN RECESSED SESSION
HERE WEDNESDAY

Two emergency budgets for road and bridge work were approved at the recessed session of the Navarro County Commissioners' Court Wednesday afternoon to open closed roads in precincts 1 and 3.

Monthly bills were approved except as noted on the claims docket. The court authorized the transfer of $418.23 to the hospital fund from the general fund.

Trustee Election.
Results of a school trustee election at Bryan were canvassed and two high men declared elected. The canvass showed the following vote totals: C. A. Denbow 52, Wayne Elrod 52, W. N. Dycus 40, E. B. Osborn 38, and L. L. Baker 1.

The court instructed Sheriff Rufus Pevehouse to supply a prisoner from the county jail to assist the janitor in the court house work when such was available.

The sheriff was also instructed to transfer all prisoners now in the county jail under penitentiary sentence to the state prison at once.

County Auditor E. Y. Cunningham was authorized to call $10,000 in bonds of road district No. 1.

Mrs. L. D. Ransom and Ellen Thornton were deputized as special county clerks by the court at the afternoon session.

Tax Collection.
J. C. Roe, Jr., special tax attorney, reported a gain of some 45 per cent in tax collections for month before last, and about 400 per cent gain last month, and several suits pending. He said collections in May were approximately $8,300 compared with $2,200 for the same month last year. It was reported approximately $13,000 had been received in delinquent taxes this month.

Attorney Roe was complimented for his efforts and instructed to continue the good work.

After considerable discussion concerning remaining within the adopted budgets, the court agreed each commissioner should do his best to stay within the limits for the fiscal year.

Commissioner C. O. Slaughter reported six roads blocked in his precinct by washed out roadways or bridge and an emergency appropriation of $997.95 was approved. An emergency budget of $50 was approved for Commissioner T. P. Hays in Precinct 1 to cover temporary repairs on the Emhouse bridge over Chambers creek.

The court finally adjourned at 4:15 p. m.

SHOULD WASP STING YOU IN EYE WHILE DRIVING AN AUTO THAT MUST BE "ACT OF GOD"

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL
AUSTIN, June 16.—If a wasp gets in your eye while you are driving an automobile, apparently it is an act of God.

At least that is the view of the department of public safety takes. The department classifies as acts of God those traffic accidents the causes of which cannot be ascribed to human errors.

There were three such accidents in Texas in April, the department reports.

1. A driver was stung in the eye by a wasp.
2. A sudden flurry of snow during a blizzard in the Panhandle caused the driver to lose control.
3. A house being moved on rollers sideswiped an automobile.

"How else," asks Ralph Buell, chief on the department's drivers license bureau, "would you classify such accidents, except as acts of God?"

The report notes that slowness, as well as speed, sometimes causes traffic accidents.

Speed is listed as the primary cause of 87 mishaps in April while driving too slowly for conditions on certain roads is blamed for two.

The general assumption is that automobiles run on or over pedestrians, yet the report says, this isn't always the case. Seven instances of pedestrians running into cars are reported.

The chief cause of accidents was said to be failure to observe right of way rules. A total of 113 accidents were reported due to such failure.

In 89 cases the driver or the pedestrian was said to have been drinking. In 23, the driver fell asleep, and in 23 more wasn't giving proper attention to his driving.

The press agent for a gubernatorial candidate says it's not only a difficult proposition to get people to weigh the merits of various seekers of the governorship but there are some folks in Texas who don't even know who's running.

The publicity representative said he asked someone recently about the local sentiment toward this year's candidates for governor and the man replied:

"I don't know who's running for governor but we want change. People around here aren't going to vote for Allred this time."

In another locality a man told the press agent he was against "that feller McCraw because he's had it long enough."

There is a question in some capitol circles that the question whether Gov. James V. Allred will be appointed to the judgeship of the new federal court to be set up in South Texas might be matched by this one: "How afraid of Allred is U. S. Senator Tom Connally?"

Some persons believe Allred might decide ultimately to oppose Senator Connally for re-election two years hence and for this reason they think Connally would not mind using his influence to pigeon-hole the governor by appointment to the federal bench.

The appointment will be made by President Roosevelt, who under ordinary circumstances would merely name someone on which Senators Connally and Morris Shepard had agreed. But the senators assertedly are sharply disagreed, and in this situation it is suggested the governor might have a good chance to snare the prize.

If the President cannot appoint either of the senators favorites without offending one senator, then, it is said, the field of selection might be broadened. Vice-President Garner called on for advice and a compromise name advanced.

It is suggested that the President knows Governor Allred well, likes him and would welcome the opportunity to give him the prized appointment. It is recalled the governor named Elliott Roosevelt, the President's son, to the board of regents on Texas A. and M. College. Allred allegedly has been offered several federal jobs which would have taken him outside the state where he didn't want to go and which he turned down.

Under these circumstances, some speculate that if Connally, fearful of a battle from Allred in 1940, should support the governor for the judgeship the latter would get the plum. They say Connally's influence might be the deciding factor.

Shepard probably wouldn't object to the governor, if he couldn't get the man he picked, and Allred also is said to be on excellent terms with the vice-president.

All such speculation runs up against the opinion held by others that Allred simply hasn't the pull with the powers in Washington to get the judgeship and that Connally isn't sufficiently apprehensive on opposition to help him get it.

BOYS AND GIRLS IN OWN SHORT COURSE A. AND M. COLLEGE

COLLEGE STATION, June 16.—(AP)—Approximately 2,500 boys and girls from Texas farms and ranches will have the undivided attention of Texas A. and M. College July 6-8 when the Junior section of the annual Farmers Short Course will be held at College Station. This is the first time that adult and junior short course visitors have met on different dates, according to Roy W. Snyder, short course general chairman.

The arrangement has been made because the yearly increasing attendance at short course has taken place at the same time when summer sessions of the college have also been growing. Each year it has been harder to make room for both groups and this year it was impossible.

General assembly every morning and the night programs will be joint meetings of the boys and girls, with music in charge of Walter H. Jenkins, well known Houston song leader. Speakers and picture shows will feature these meetings. A tea honoring the gold star boys and girls will be given one afternoon.

Programs for the boys have been arranged on the subjects of livestock; field crops; entomology; horticulture; plant propagation; cotton classing and meat. Home making subjects, wildflower legends, and the like will be studied by the girls, with emphasis on such themes as "The 4-H Club Girl's Dollar and Sense" and "How I Got on Friendly Terms with the Things Around Me." The value of 4-H Club work to college girls and to homemakers will be discussed by several former 4-H club members.

Demo Executive Committee Will Meet on Monday

The Navarro County Democratic Executive Committee will meet Monday morning at 10 o'clock at the court house. It was announced today by N. S. Crawford, county chairman.

At this time the official ticket to be voted Saturday, July 23, will be completed and assessments will be made against the candidates. All members of the committee are urged to be present.

Mr. Crawford stated that he will make his headquarters at the courthouse from June 20 through June 25 where candidates can pay their fees and transact other matters incident to the election. His office hours will be 8 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Saturday, June 18, is the deadline for filing for places on the primary ticket.

It was reported around the courthouse Thursday that a majority of the candidates planned to meet Monday and prepare a schedule of speaking dates, name their executive committee, and otherwise prepare for active campaigning during the remaining time before the primary election on July 23.

Efficient Mass Production Good
DETROIT, June 16.—(AP)—Thurman W. Arnold, first assistant attorney general of the United States, told the Advertising Federation of America today that "no government group desires to break up efficient mass production."

On the other hand, he said, the government does not "seek to justify combinations going beyond efficient mass production."

Livingston Will Stage Pow-Wow In Honor of Indians

What is said to be the only remaining tribe of Indians in Texas, the Alabama-Coushattas, who live on a reservation 17 miles east of Livingston, will put on a pow-wow celebration June 23. The celebration is being sponsored by Livingston business men for the purpose of acquainting the people of Texas with the only tribe of Indians left in the state.

Featured will be a parade at 10 a. m., which will include Indians, cowboys, pioneers driving ox teams as their ancestors did 100 years ago. In the afternoon will be a rodeo, and at night tribal ceremonies and tribal dances.

No Horse Thieves to Chase
LIBERTY, N. Y., June 16.—(AP)—Twenty-five years in a long time without a single horse thief to chase. So the Liberty Horse Thief Detecting Society wants to disband. Its members, who recalled only one "really good" chase (and that unsuccessful) in its 25 years of existence, voted yesterday to ask the state supreme court to dissolve the organization.

AD MAN TELLS 'EM

Bruce Barton, successful writer, advertising expert and conservative business man, got himself elected to Congress to help solve national problems. After a few months of viewing national affairs from the angle of a responsible legislator and spectator of government and business, he has written a piece for the Cosmopolitan Magazine in which he tells how things look to him.

American business has accomplished wonders, he says, developing a high level of general welfare. It has also developed grave abuses.

"The insiders had been enjoying too much of an edge. Some of them had been dealing from the bottom of the pack. At the top of society there were too much money and too much power. And business, wonderfully capable in improving and selling products, was less progressive in its human relations."

He likewise criticizes the faults of government, particularly the present administration. It has been confused, he thinks, and unsuccessful. Mr. Barton, however, is not interested in blaming either business or government, but in getting important things done. To this end he advises business to base its program on—

"A frank recognition of the mistakes of the old deal and a genuine determination that they shall not recur."

"A knowledge that the days of big fortunes are over in every country, and that a more equitable distribution of wealth must be accomplished."

"Promise of a truly more abundant life, including cheap food, cheap clothing, cheap and attractive homes; 'Acceptance of the fact that government is on top in every country in the world, and will remain on top. The great business man of the future will be the one who has achieved a successful formula for working with the government."

"A determination to attack the political and social problems just like any other sales problem—with ingenuity, vigor, and no thought of defeat."

He adds that, from now on, "only those who succeed in public life who can convince the masses they are able to work out a permanently fair and righteous distribution of the nation's opportunities and wealth." He says they must also face "the hard fact that, while the financial power may still abide in the 'best section' of town, the political power has moved permanently across the railroad tracks."

LEGAL KNITTING.

It's legal to crochet. At least, it has not been judged illegal and that gives it the benefit of the doubt. Knitting comes under the same classification.

A middle-aged housewife sat on a murder jury in a New York state town recently. While listening to the testimony she crocheted busily on a dolly. She had brought a knitting bag to the court room and remarked to a court officer that she wanted to keep her hands occupied while she listened. She could give better attention, she thought.

The officer referred the matter to the judge who said he would take no judicial notice of her occupation unless counsel objected. No objections were entered, so the lady kept on crocheting.

"Women can knit and listen at the same time,"

IMAGINATION.

Wise Bobby Burns, whom millions quote,
Once saw a louse upon a bonnet
And seeing went away and wrote
A deathless poem on it.

Another time a field mouse fled
A furrow that his plough was turning
And started in the poet's head
A poem schoolboys still are learning.

He saw a wounded hare limp by
To die by mate and young un-tended,
And wrote a verse that will not die
Before his fit of fury ended.

How much there is we fail to see!
How much escapes the reaper's gleaming!
Trifles to us might splendors be
If we could only grasp their meaning.

WORK FIRST.

Preserving democracy isn't merely a matter of preaching freedom and attacking Fascism and Communism, says Dr. Harry F. Ward,
professor of Christian ethics
in Union Theological Seminary. He seems to think,
too, that it can't be done by preaching Christian ethics.
It's a matter of jobs. A nation that cannot solve its unemployment problem has
"a scant chance of saving its democracy."

In short, people must have work, or a country will have revolution. It will come whether people want it or not. It may even come
by unconscious processes,
from society or government
being forced to do one thing
after another, by way of substitutions for normal employment, until the nation wakes up and discovers that its liberties have gone.

"Unless you can find a way through community organization," declares Dr.
Ward, "to make government the agent of the community, and unless you can so organize as to guarantee the right to work—not only to get relief—the chances for preserving democracy are just as slim as they were in Germany ten years ago."

It is necessary to come back to this over and over again, because in public and private, in government and in business, attention is distracted too much from the main issue. What counts is simply work. The big thing is to get people back to sustaining, self-respecting, private work.
Other things can wait. If we fail in this, then sooner or later everybody will be working for the government.

UNLUCKY ADOLF

"What's in a name?"
Sometimes a lot of trouble.
That is certainly the case
with a young German bearing the remarkable name of Adolf Fuehrer.

This Adolf was formerly manager of a Catholic organization in Cologne.
Whenever he had to tell his name to some Nazi official,
which was pretty often, the official thought he was mocking the All-Nazi Reichsfuehrer, and he was soon sent to a concentration camp for it. The process
continued, and because he was a truthful man he got in worse and worse with the authorities, and was sent from one prison-place to another, until finally he managed to escape into Switzerland.

In spite of party feeling in America, it doesn't seem likely that any man would be jailed or shot at sunrise for bearing a name like Franklin President.

the judge commented: And every one knows they can.
A man of the same type of mind must whittle when he wishes to concentrate, or make marks on paper with a pencil.

It is curious about these handicrafts. The creative stages, while the worker is designing, planning or counting a turn call for complete attention on the work itself. In those stages a blank mind is usually presented to the outside world. But once the plan is clear, the wheel is counted or the corner turned, the work becomes automatic,
nerves and self-consciousness alike disappear and the worker turns a clearer and more adequate attention to the outside need of the moment than he is capable of without the work in his—or her—busy hands.

OUTING TRAINS.

The hobby train seems to be the summer version of the snow train which carried city dwellers to the open spaces for a day of winter sports. It is quite common in England nowadays.

The first American hobby
train of the season, on a recent Sunday, took a crowd of New York pleasure seekers to a quiet Connecticut village on the Housatonic River. Some passengers had bicycles, but most carried collapsible boats, which are the current rage. These vest-pocket boats come out of bundles about the size of a knapsack. A few trick adjustments and the proper placing of supporting poles produce a sort of canoe. A few were like Eskimo kayaks, but most of the boats were suitable for two passengers and were occupied by couples well prepared for the ducking that a few of them got.

The train, having deposited its passengers at one town moved to another about 18 miles down the river, where weary but happy boaters and bicyclists boarded it at the end of what may well have been a perfect day.

This sort of outing has several good points. It gets a lot of white collar workers, who couldn't belong to golf or yachting clubs,
away from their city environment for inexpensive recreation. The people who prefer more privacy and abhor crowds can keep to the hammock under their own apple trees. There seem to be enough different kinds of recreation and enough opportunities to go around these days.

Faces Murder Charge

Francis Black (above) of San Antonio and his wife were charged with murder at Alpine, Texas, accused of shooting a 13-year-old boy they said they had adopted off a 400-foot cliff while on an outing trip.

COUPLE INDICTED CONNECTION WITH DEATH PLUNGE BOY

ALPINE, June 13.—(AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Francis Black of San Antonio were under indictment today accused of an insurance death plot in the 400-foot plunge from a cliff at Agua Fria Springs of 13-year-old Marvin Dale Nobbitt.

A Brewster county grand jury
last night returned indictments charging murder. Deputy Sheriff H. T. Labbe said. The cases were set for trial June 20.

The couple remained in jail,
bond not having been set. They were taken into custody Saturday after the boy, who had been left in their custody two months previously, toppled from the cliff at an isolated spot in the Big Bend country. The Blacks had been vacationing in that section.
District Attorney Alan Fraser said his investigation revealed a $5,000 insurance policy was issued in San Antonio on the boy's life with the Blacks as beneficiaries.

WARFARE AGAINST SOIL EROSION IS URGED BY BENNETT

DENTON, June 14.—(AP)—Dr.
Hugh H. Bennett, who, as chief of the U. S. Soil conservation service, has led the fight against ruination of soil by flood and dust, today urged a "democratic"
warfare against erosion, to head off a serious national decline.

The department of agriculture's conservation spoke at the soil conservation conference sponsored by North Texas State Teachers' college.

At stake, Dr. Bennett said, are more than a billion acres of land permanently or seriously damaged in the past 200 years. The fight should have been begun 50 years ago; to delay further can mean nothing less than serious national decline, he added. America is paying an annual bill of $400,000,000 for direct and immediate damage to farms in loss of soil, and another $400,000,000 for damage to highways and railway embankments, for "silting" or filling up of expensive artificial reservoirs, and for the choking of stream channels and ditches.

Dr. Bennett called for a "democratic" warfare against erosion, and tagged as "extremely significant" the formation of soil conservation districts by farmers for cooperation with government agencies in checking both wind and water erosion. More than 50
such districts have been formed and many more are in the process of formation in the 25 states which now have soil conservation laws, the U. S. Soil chief said.

Children Treated.
The three smotherman children have been returned to the Freeman Clinic, Dallas, for treatment,
it was reported Tuesday by Mrs.

and local representative of the Texas Society for Crippled Children.

Mrs. Brown also took Opal Fay Wright to Dallas Tuesday to have braces fitted.

MAKING INVESTMENTS in a changing world

The problem of investing money grows increasingly complex. Q Today, more than ever, it is a job for experts. Furthermore, it is a job for an organization — as one individual could hardly have the diversified facts and complete information necessary for sound investment management.
Nor could he apply the group judgment so essential to balanced decisions. Q Making and managing investments is an important part of our business as a trust institution. We will gladly explain how our investment experience, and our various trust services, might be helpful to you and your family.

COURT TEST OF NEW WAGE-HOUR BILL TO BE SOUGHT EARLY

ONLY SIGNATURE PRESIDENT REMAINS MAKE MEASURE INTO LAW

WASHINGTON, June 15.—(AP)—Only President Roosevelt's signature was needed today to start an unprecedented federal program for nationwide regulation of industrial working hours and minimum pay.

Congress approved compromise legislation late yesterday after debate that left little doubt the law soon will encounter a constitutional test in the courts.

The act is calculated to fix the minimum pay and maximum hours of 750,000 industrial workers as well as the hours of another 1,500,000 unaffected by the wage provisions. It will go into effect 120 days after being signed by the president.

The president may appoint immediately an administrator who will have broad powers to interpret the act and to instruct committees of employers, workers and private citizens to be set up for each interstate industry.

The act establishes a maximum work week of 44 hours for the first year, 42 hours for the second and 40 thereafter with overtime and a half pay for overtime. Workers in seasonal industries, which do not operate more than 14 weeks a year, may be employed for 56 hours a week before being paid overtime.

McCall Pled Guilty In Kidnap Little Cash Boy

MIAMI, Fla., June 14.—(AP)—Franklin Pierce McCall pleaded guilty upon arraignment today to a charge of kidnapping James Bailey Cash, Jr., for ransom, a capital offense, and innocent to a charge of killing the five-year-old Princeton Ind.

A special grand jury returned a true bill against the 21-year-old truck driver charging him with the kidnapping and slaying less than two hours after State Attorney George A. Worley, leaving a sick bed, started presentation of the evidence.

Witnesses included Cash, senior, the victim's father, and federal agents who said McCall had signed a confession admitting he abducted the boy May 28 for $10,000 ransom.

Grey-haired Circuit Judge H. F. Atkins, who received the indictment and ordered McCall's immediate arraignment, said he would appoint counsel to defend the prisoner and a date would be set for the trial.

DECISIVE VICTORY FOR OPPONENTS TO CHANGES IN CHARTER

INTEREST HIGH IN ELECTION WITH NEARLY ONE THOUSAND VOTES CAST

Citizens of Corsicana decisively defeated two proposed changes in the municipal charter in Tuesday's special election by a margin of approximately four to one with a total of 915 votes cast.

Results of the balloting were canvassed at a special session of the city commission at 8 o'clock Tuesday night and a resolution adopted declaring the changes defeated. Mayor J. S. Murchison, and Commissioners N. F. Garrett, Edgar Rittersbacher, and J. Harry Burke were in attendance.

Heavy Vote. One of the heaviest votes in recent years was brought out by the concerted last-minute drive by proponents and opponents of the two commission-supported changes in the charter. A total of 915 votes were cast in the election on April 5, and with 518 cast in January 1930, when the same two proposals along with two others were submitted to the citizenry in the regime of former Mayor R. L. Wheelock.

Observers could recall only the heated majorally race in 1935 between Mayor J. S. Murchison, and Dr. R. C. Curtis, former city commissioner, having brought out a recent vote in recent years. Approximately a third of the voting strength of the city participated in the election Tuesday.

The official results were:

Box	Yes	No	Yes	No
Ward 1	115	78	13	78
Ward 2	119	183	20	167
Ward 3	172	283	69	243
Ward 4	152	219	47	208
Totals	558	743	149	694

Total votes in the various boxes reported were: Ward 1—83, Ward 2—202, Ward 3—335, Ward 4—285.

Other Proposals Planned. Next moves in the campaign are apparently up to the organized opponents of the two proposed charter changes defeated Tuesday. Prior to the election a list of proposed changes which would make several other appointive offices elective were adopted by a citizens' mass meeting and some observers anticipate a campaign will be waged in their behalf.

City Attorney Jack H. Thompson reported to the commission recently that a new charter amendment election could be inaugurated in thirty days after the latest provided the proposals were defeated. About ninety days would be required to complete the procedure set out by the state law governing charter amendments, which would make another election possible in late October or early November.

Some observers anticipated a delay in the calling of the new election, pointing out most of the officials who would be affected by the proposed change from appointive to elective status were named to their posts for two-year terms in April of this year.

Josephine Tullios and J. C. Roe Are Dinner Honorees

Miss Alice Clyde Brophy and Vernon Harwell were joint host and hostess at a lovely dinner party Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock on the Angela Allyn terrace of the Kinloe House in compliment to Miss Josephine Tullios and J. C. Roe whose wedding is to take place Monday, June 27, and the members of the bridal party.

The three-course dinner was served on buffet from a beautifully appointed table in which a blue and white color scheme was adapted to the decorations and the dessert course.

The table was laid in a lovely lace cloth over blue and white center with a white pottery bowl filled with daisies, fever few and blue cornflowers.

White tapers burned in tall, silver candlesticks at either end. The three small tables at which seats were found by means of place cards attached to lovely corsages of lilies were few as favors for the girls, and boutonnieres as favors for the boys.

Each table was laid in blue linen cloths with napkins to match, and each was centered with a small flower and candle container, in which the blue candles were surrounded by the white fever few in charming effect.

The menu consisted of tomato cocktail, the dinner plate of fried chicken, steamed rice, buttered peas, cornucopia salad and hot rolls, and iced tea, and the last course of ice cream and cake squares iced in white with the letters, T. R., in blue.

The governor pointed out that consummation of a settlement was necessary to obviate high receiver-ship costs.

SOVIET RUSSIA IS POLISHING UP HER FIGHTING FORCES DUE TO WAR ALARMS OVER EUROPE

By RICHARD G. MASSOOR

MOSCOW.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.—Soviet Russia is polishing up her fighting forces as war alarms sound in Europe.

With Germany making threatening gestures toward Czechoslovakia, leaders of the Soviet Republic are:

1. Further bolshevizing the army and navy.
2. Demanding greater discipline from the men.
3. Insisting on better armaments from the factories.

Foreign observers have been unable to learn what Russia intends to do in a military way if there is a German attack on Czechoslovakia, which Russia is pledged to aid if France does.

Even such precautionary measures as troop movements along the frontiers are unlikely to become known for some time, so great is the secrecy in Moscow over anything military.

Another question mark is how strong the execution of eight generals a year ago and a shake-up of other officers left the Red Army. Soviet authorities say the purge strengthened the country by exterminating traitors.

The Kremlin, however, is taking precautions against any possibility of insubordination or disloyalty among the 1,500,000 Red soldiers and sailors in case of war.

Only about a third of those men are members of communist party organizations, according to official figures. Political commissars, who are attached to all military units, have been ordered to intensify the bolshevization.

The newspapers reveal there has been shake-up among political commissars as well as among military officers during the past year.

Political commissars and military officers share equal rank and responsibility. The commissars are the "eyes and ears" of the party, said Red Star, the army newspaper. It is their duty to detect enemies of the Stalinist regime, to keep in constant touch with the men and "rear the men in devotion to the party of Lenin and Stalin" by teaching them from the writings of the books of the bolshevik fathers.

Red Fleet, the navy organ, echoed the same preaching. Enemies within the ranks must be uprooted, it said, for the "concealed enemy is the most dangerous."

It urged the political commissars to be of "strong will" to "create an atmosphere in which the enemy will suffocate."

The army and navy commanders have called for stronger discipline, particularly in stamping out drunkenness. Some political commissars have been scolded for drinking with the men. Vodka, the newspapers say, not only weakens discipline, but loosens tongues in the possible presence of spies and traitors.

The drive for better arms and munitions results from what B. V. Vannikoff, vice commissar of defense industry, said was considerable waste production of defective equipment. Half the production of some plants, he said, was scrap, and valuable raw materials were wasted.

Part of the waste was attributed to the speeding up of the Soviet arms output. The principal causes were outbursts by Vannikoff as deliberate wrecking, technological defects and defective materials.

FIVE WISCONSIN PROGRESSIVES SIGN SIX-POINT PROGRAM SET UP BY REP. MAURY MAVERICK

WASHINGTON, June 14.—(AP)—Five Wisconsin Progressives have subscribed to a six-point program advocated by Representative Maury Maverick (D-Tex.), leader of the so-called progressive-liberal bloc in the house.

Outlining the objectives in a statement inserted in the congressional record, Maverick said:

"This program and statement of principles is subscribed to by members of all political parties. We seek legislation to bring about largely on our pledge to the people to work for their enactment into law during the next congress."

The Wisconsin progressives who signed the declaration of principles were Representatives Boileau, Kehrman, Withrow, Schneider, Amle. The program calls for:

1. "Preservation of American democracy and civil liberties as set out in the bill of rights."
2. "Effective government control over and use of the money and credit system to restore to congress its constitutional right to coin money and make credit of the nation an instrument x x x directly employed in breaking the existing credit monopoly, stabilizing the price level, and bringing the total consuming power of the people into line with their power to produce."

"Coast of production program for agriculture."

"Broadening and improvement of the social security act."

"Legislation to bring about through the co-operation of government, business, and labor, a co-ordinated expansion of industrial production and an effective control over both monopoly price increases and monopolistic curtailment of production of needed goods and services."

"A long range flexible, self-liquidating program of public works aimed primarily to meet such outstanding national needs as slum elimination and low cost housing and the need for conservation and development of natural resources."

THOUSANDS SAFETY CONSCIOUS TEXANS CONVENE FT. WORTH

GOVERNOR ALLRED AND OTHERS PROMINENT IN PUBLIC LIFE ARE HEARD

By DAVE CLEVELANDS
FORT WORTH, June 15.—(AP)—More than a thousand safety-conscious Texans, alarmed at a rising toll of traffic deaths, today heard Gov. James V. Allred call their convention the declaration of a real war against unnecessary automobile deaths.

Allred, whose statewide traffic safety committee sponsored the convention—the first of its kind held in Texas—expressed hope the next legislature would enact "an effective drivers' license law."

Formation of a permanent safety league and establishment of the convention as an annual rally of forces against traffic deaths were expected to be outstanding developments of the meeting today. Beaumont, Waco and Houston were already dunning for the next convention and several other cities were expected to extend invitations.

Fort Worth was alive with visiting traffic policemen on motorcycles as cities in all sections of the state sent delegations of officers and municipal authorities. A parade at noon, headed by a Beaumont float, was scheduled to follow the morning session.

Rebuttal to looking for the formation of a safety league and calling for revision of the state highway laws were expected to be acted upon this afternoon.

Proponents of changes in the laws will seek to have the highway speed limit raised from 45 miles to 60 miles an hour, with speed zones in cities of 20 and 30 miles. They also will seek changes in the license law to permit the department of public safety to revoke or suspend licenses upon holding hearings, and less severe punishment for drunken drivers, by changing the offense from a felony to a misdemeanor and placing jurisdiction in county courts.

Proponents of the change claim it would make a more practical law.

Other Plans for Safety. Plans for safety also were made by Harry Hines, member of the state highway commission, W. H. Richardson, Jr., chairman of the public safety commission, and H. C. Keen, chairman of the Beaumont Safety League. Keen described how Beaumont won the 1937 award of the National Safety Council for cities in its population group.

Speakers scheduled to be heard in the afternoon were: Mayor Tom Miller of Austin, discussing "How Much Can a Community Afford to Spend for Traffic Safety?"

Law Wallace of Des Moines, commissioner of motor vehicles of Iowa, on how other states have handled the traffic problem; Robert Lee Bobbitt, chairman of the state highway commission, "How Public Policy Has Affected the Design of State Highways With Regards to Safety," Captain Homer Garrison, Jr., assistant director, department of public safety, "Raising the Level of Traffic Law Enforcement in Each City," Chief of Police R. L. Jones of Dallas, "Will the Public Support an Enforcement Program?"

Corporation Court Judge King Williamson of Dallas, "Needed Legislation in 1939," Mrs. Charles Stephens, Fort Worth, member of the executive board, the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, "Need for Traffic Education in Our Schools," and Harry Phillips, traffic engineer, engineering department, state highway department, "Objectives of the Traffic Division of the State Highway Department."

Greater Market Only Solution to Cotton Situation

CLEVELAND, Miss., June 15.—(AP)—Assistant Secretary of State Francis B. Sayre told southern cotton leaders, planters, processors and state officials gathered here today to organize a national cotton council that the only sound and permanent solution for the cotton problem was the building of increased markets at home and abroad through the government's trade-agreements program.

The assistant secretary called on the south to forget "sectional attitudes and interests" and to join with other sections in fashioning a program for the welfare of the nation as a whole.

More impounding of surpluses by the government was no real solution, he said, and pointed to the experience of the old federal farm board as "ample proof."

"In the past," Dr. Sayre said, "the south has sold within the United States less than half of its annual cotton production. If foreign markets are lost for American cotton, ruin faces the south."

Congress Decides Postmasters May Have Life Posts

WASHINGTON, June 15.—(AP)—Congress had decided postmasters in first, second and third class offices shall become "career men" who may hold their jobs for life.

Legislation extending the civil service to these offices, previously filled largely by political appointees of the party in power, was enacted yesterday and sent to the White House.

The bill would permit incumbent postmasters—nearly all of whom are Democrats—to retain their posts by taking a non-competitive civil service examination when their present four-year terms end.

Otherwise, if a vacancy occurs, the postmasters will be appointed by the president from among the three persons making the highest grade on a competitive civil service examination. The senate must confirm these appointments, which will be for life.

The only bar to this extension of Democratic control of the postmasterhips, Republican congressmen declared, would be repeal of the law when an anti-Republican controls the government.

WINKLER HURLER LOSES AFTER HAD WON TWENTY GAMES

WINKLER, June 15.—(Spl.)—After pitching and winning 20 games this season, Heglar, Winkler's number one moundman, lost his first game here Sunday, 5-3 to Burleson. He gave up seven hits to the visitors while Davis limited Winkler to five safe ones.

The two teams will meet again Friday night at the Fairfield park. Winkler got off to a 2-1 lead in the first two innings, but by the end of the third Burleson had mustered four more runs, and sacked the game, which Winkler's feeble offensive in the ninth, netting one run, failed to absolve.

TWO BARRY FUTURE FARMERS SHOW GAINS FOR FEEDER CALVES

Tom Lynch and Buddy Brooks, Barry Future Farmers, are demonstrating that excellent gains may be put on calves even during an unfavorable feeding period. Tom's calf weighed 490 lbs. at the time of being placed on feed, April 18. After a feeding period of 55 days, the calf was weighed on June 10, topped the scales at 705 pounds. This showed a gain of 215 lbs. which is an average daily gain of 3.9 lbs. for the 55 day feeding period.

Buddy's calf weighed 480 lbs. when placed on feed and over the same feeding period showed a gain of 170 lbs., averaging 3.1 lbs. daily.

Calves also owned by Cecil Rader and Wayne Watkins are also doing exceptionally well, estimated daily gains being between 2.5 and 3.0 lbs. All of these calves are to be fed on until the county fair in October, and are then to be exhibited there.

CURRIE RESIDENT SHOWS OLD AUTO LICENSE NUMBER

On May 17, 1913, E. S. Michael, now living near Currie, bought a new Buick automobile in Corsicana and the county license number was 691. He drove the car for five years and sold it, but kept the number and brought it to the Daily Sun today.

Mr. Michael wants to know if anyone in Navarro county has an automobile license having a smaller number than 691, which would indicate the car was purchased before this particular automobile. The license plate Mr. Michael showed today was made of leather or composition nearly a foot square, and the numbers were aluminum house numbers about six inches in height, fastened to the frame with paper brads.

Death Sentence Has Been Affirmed By Appeals Court

AUSTIN, June 15.—(A)—The court of criminal appeals today affirmed a death sentence given Dan Sims who was found guilty by a Harris county court of robbery with firearms.

The defense claimed the trial court should have granted a change of venue because of "prejudice and a dangerous combination of influential persons."

The court said evidence showed Sims had led a band of three in a midnight robbery of a drug store which precipitated a gun battle with police and resulted in the serious wounding of Officer B. F. Roberts.

The court overruled the state's motions for rehearing in two death sentence cases where it had previously reversed district court findings and ordered new trials.

One was that of Bob White, negro, found guilty of rape by a Polk county jury in September, 1937. The appellate court said it regretted its decision in a case of that character but said it was forced to conclude the defendant's trial had not proceeded in complete accordance with the law.

The other was that of Lonnie Mitchell, also a negro, given the death penalty in Taylor county after being found guilty of the murder of Chester Hutcheson, city marshal of Merkel, in April, 1936.

The negro has been tried twice and the appellate court has reversed the verdicts in each instance.

MEXICAN NATIONAL RAILWAY HIKES ITS RATES ON FREIGHT

MEXICO CITY, June 15.—(A)—The Mexican National Railway, which the government gave to its 48,000 workers six weeks ago, today boosted freight rates over government objections.

In defiance of an order yesterday by the federal communication charges were increased five, 10 and 20 per cent on foodstuffs, raw materials for industry and other necessities.

Salvador J. Romero, ex-officio boy and now general manager, has insisted the $525-mile system's freight rates must be increased if it was to be operated and an "economic basis."

In line with that policy, he declared, notice has been served on the mining industry. Mexico's largest, that its freight rates would be increased an average of 43 per cent this month. Spokesmen for mining interests declared the boost would be "ruinous."

Although a business recession induced by the government's expropriation of the $400,000,000 foreign oil industry and a loss of tourist traffic during the Ceditio revolt hurt the railroads during the first 45 days of their new, worker-owners' operation, management spokesmen were optimistic.

Carloadings for May were 40,622 against 36,977 for the same month in 1937. Operating revenues were off about 10 per cent, but reductions in personnel and elimination of large salaries had resulted in savings Romero estimated at $600,000 pesos (about $150,000) for the remainder of the year.

Indebtedness has been reduced and $110,000 worth of new equipment has been paid for. Taxes have been met, wages paid and a reserve set aside for depreciation and replacement.

Beauty Diary

of Edna Kent Forbes
Alluring Eyes.

Miss Forbes tells you today how to improve your appearance by inducing your eye-lashes to grow healthfully.

Long eyelashes are even more alluring than anything else about the face. They seem to give more to it than the features do. Very thick and long lashes are exceptional after adult years. Yet not so many children have them either. When they do, you remember them by their lovely eyelashes and see very little of any of their defects.

Correct this by rubbing a little cream into the skin where you have this unpleasant sensation. It is better to clear the pores gradually, and the skin does not suffer. Oils, or thin creams, will work into the clogged pores, a little deeper with each treatment, and you are able then to wash out part of the clog with each treatment.

If you have any beauty problems you cannot solve, write for Edna Kent Forbes three 25¢ beauty booklets: (1) "Fifteen Minutes a Day for Beauty," (2) "The Finer Points of Beauty," (3) "Eating and Bathing for Beauty." Send two cents in stamps for EACH booklet to day for printing and handling and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope (a.s.e.). Address: Edna Kent Forbes, c/o this paper.

AUTO REGISTRATION NUMBER 1912 SHOWN DAILY SUN OFFICE

Going one year further back in automobile lore, Dr. L. C. Polk brought to the Sun office Thursday morning a registration number 415 of the vintage of 1912.

This number also identified a Buick and indicated a grand total of 276 automobiles were sold in Corsicana and Navarro county over the twelve months period between the purchase made by Dr. Polk and that made by E. S. Niechal, of Currie, who sported the number 691 on his 1913 Buick.

Dr. Polk stated that when he purchased his car they were no improved roads in Corsicana and that by riding over a dirt road to Ellis county the auto traveler had the thrill of riding on a gravel road—which was something to write home about in those days.

The number mounted on leather is now on exhibition at the Sun office through the courtesy of Dr. Polk.

The 691 number was exhibited at the Sun office Wednesday.

WEALTH OF GOOD TOMATOES READY FOR USE TEXAS FOOD SPECIALIST GIVES SEVERAL WAYS OF SERVING TOMATOES

COLLEGE STATION, June 16.—(Sp.)—Commenting on the wealth of good tomatoes available this summer in Texas, Nora Ellen Elliott, specialist in foods of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, pointed out that the "adequate diet" worked out by the college experts to degenerate health, calls for either tomatoes or citrus fruits at least once a day to insure ample amounts of Vitamin C.

The present tomato situation makes it possible for everyone to use this luscious fruit freely," Miss Elliott said, "and if every family uses them now it will help out the growers who are asking for public cooperation in stabilizing their crop."

Miss Elliott offered several suggestions for different ways of serving tomatoes and among them were the following:

Baked tomatoes and beans.—Scoop out centers of tomatoes. Salt and let stand 30 minutes. Invert and dot with butter. Stuff with a layer of chopped onion and about one-half hour in hot oven, with baked beans. Bake at 350 degrees F. until slightly wrinkled. Garnish with fresh green onion or parsley.

Creole tomatoes.—1 large green pepper; 3 tomatoes; 1 small onion; salt, pepper and butter. Pare tomatoes and cut them in two. Put them in a baking tin, covering with a layer of chopped onion and peppers. Dot liberally with bits Remove from the pan and keep hot. Sauce—1-4 cup milk; 1-4 cup cream; 1 tablespoon flour, 1-4 tablespoon butter; salt and pepper and rounds of toast. Add milk and cream to the liquor left in pan after removing tomatoes. Rub flour and butter together and stir into other ingredients. Add salt and pepper. When the mixture thickens, remove it from the fire. Put the tomatoes on rounds of buttered toast, and pour cream sauce over all.

Tomato jelly ring.—12 or 14 ripe tomatoes; 1 small onion; 1 celery stalk; 2 bay leaves; 4 cloves; 2 teaspoons salt; shake of cayenne pepper; 2 pkgs. plain gelatin; 2 cups cold water; 4 tablespoons tarragon vinegar. Cook together tomatoes, 1 small onion, celery, bay leaf, 4 cloves, 2 t. salt and pepper. Remove from heat as soon as it boils. Soak 2 packages gelatin in cold water. Add the vinegar and gelatin to hot mixture. Strain and pour into a ring mold. hen set dip mold in warm water, turn out and fill with rice or shredded cabbage, pimiento and nuts, or chopped lettuce and green onion tops.

Tomato cottage cheese salad.—Cut tomato into sixths. Salt and pepper. VICTORY OF THE VICTIM SHOWS WAY OUT FOR WORLD*

When Men Accept the Cross Way, All That Is Wrong Will Be Made Right—Some Travel Recollections.

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS

Musing upon this Lesson theme, memory harks swiftly back to France and to Macedonia and to Palestine, where rows upon rows, acres upon acres, of little crosses mark the resting place of the soldier dead. By some impulse deeper than reason, the nations have chosen the cross symbol for the fallen of the World War—Protestant England, once-athletic France, Catholic Italy, Orthodox Serbia, Roumania and Greece. All accept the cross as the significant memorial of the men who have laid down their lives for a Cause.

Crucifix at Mount Sinai.
Is it not becoming clear that only the Cross will save our troubled time? We have tried legislation and arbitration and war and breakers of nations; yet still the unrest of humanity grows apace. All that wisdom and law could do has been done; but in vain. There is knowledge enough in the world to save civilization; the sign of Love and sacrifice is force enough; nevertheless, organized society is in a desperate case today.

I am reminded of a spectacle which I observed at Mt. Sinai. Surmounting the Mountain of the Law, and all of the surrounding peaks, are iron crosses, erected centuries ago by devout Greek monks from St. Katherine's Monastery. At pains and personal risk, they placed the symbol of our faith upon those rocky peaks; sensing the great truth that the Mountain of the Law, without the sign of Love and sacrifice, is incomplete. Moses is inadequate, except as he leads to Christ Mount Calvary blossoms with flowers.

Panicky persons are crying for more laws, more force, more machine guns, with which to meet the menace of red radicalism. Their plan is futile. Only a new spirit in society, and in all classes of society, can save us from this hate-begetting programme of violence. That is the spirit of the Cross. Of course, we should deal vigorously with law-breakers, but law-breakers, regardless of class; but even when so doing the motive needs to be the motive of Calvary, which is to save. Love to the point of sacrifice alone can deliver the world from the menace of bitterness and selfishness and vindictiveness and class-spirit.

The Unchastened Nations.
Real radicalism is in a dictionary sense, the getting down to the root of things. The superficial thinking of the Bolsheviks is not genuine radicalism; it is the most obvious and shallow sort of unrestrained self-interest. If the thinking people of today would really turn radical they would quickly perceive that at the root of a successful social order, even as it was put as the foundation of our constitutional democracy, there must be the spirit of good will to men, and of the subordination of the desires of the individual for the sake of the community. True radicalism digs deep until it comes to the cross foundation.

Apply that test to the times. The common cry is that the world needs to be reformed. Assuredly. And to be remade. Yes. And to be re-learned. Doubtless. And to be reorganized. Admittedly. And to be re-educated. Without question.

But beyond all these needs, and underlying them every one, is the all-pervading need that the world be saved—saved from itself and its old self-centered nature, which the preachers call sin; saved from foolish leaders and fatuous reformers; saved from theorists and demagogues; saved from the heedless followers of everything that is new, and saved from the blind obscurantism which clings only to what used to be.

War has not chastened humanity; the depression has not chastened it; nor yet hunger or cold, or vast social upheavals. It is not time that we turn aside from our cheap and futile devices for bettering life and kneel at the foot of the Cross.

News of County Home Demonstration Clubs

Oak Valley Club.

Poultry meat contains protein which is required for the body to grow and to replace used up tissue, Miss C. E. Rettiger told 12 members of the Oak Valley Home Demonstration Club June 13, in the home of Mrs. Walter Little, where the required players of the protein, meat of some kind should be served four or five times a week, and dried beans or peas at the other times, Miss Rettiger said. Small children do not need as much meat as older people and they got nearly enough protein from milk. Three general principles in cooking poultry are, first, sear in hot fat, then lower the heat and cook slowly, and vary the poultry dishes.

Miss Rettiger prepared chicken with Creole sauce, salad, and wiches and tomatoes-tuffed with chicken salad, after which she presented a table for these and others to the members.

Punch and cookies were served by the hostess and her daughter Mary Jane.

On Wednesday, June 22, Mrs. S. E. White will entertain the club with a spend the day party. This will be the club friend remembrance day.—Reporter.
